COMPANY NEWS

This Month's Featured Company:

Roadrunner Fitness Electronics

Roadrunner produces personal fitness trackers, heart rate monitors, headlamps, GPS watches, and other sport-related consumer electronics. They recently released the Roadrunner Fit III. Featuring multi-sport tracking, automatic step count, heart rate and sleep monitoring, as well as smartphone alerts, the latest generation of its popular series will retail for a suggested price of $129.99.

"Roadrunner Fit III is the next evolution of Roadrunner wearables, combining learnings from products including the Roadrunner Watch," said Gary Rhodes, president of Roadrunner Fitness Electronics. "We designed the Fit III to be the perfect fitness companion, with accurate tracking technology for fitness, heart and sleep. With a long-lasting battery, Roadrunner Fit is ready for anything and suitable for every body."

Roadrunner Fit III is the perfect companion for everybody – regardless of fitness level. It bridges the gap between a smartwatch and a fitness tracker, with a stylish design and standard band sizes so you can easily swap for a customized look. The rugged, always-on LCD touch screen delivers important information at a glance, such as time, steps, and heart rate. Switch between preset dial styles—the time is always visible, even in strong light, thanks to the reflective and backlit display, controlled by an ambient light sensor.

New and improved features include

- Daily Status Recording
- Advanced Heart Rate Monitoring
- Multi-sport mode support
- Running Training
- Smartwatch Functionality
- Sleep Monitoring

MIP Operations

For many, social media has become a regular part of everyday life. Receiving notifications can become so commonplace we forget that although a link may come from a “friend,” it does not mean they sent it—or that it is safe to click on.

To help protect yourself from online phishers, keep the following tips in mind:

- Avoid fake customer service accounts.
- Do not follow user comments on popular posts.
- Be wary of live-stream videos.

If you believe you may have clicked on a questionable link, disconnect the device from the internet as soon as possible, run a complete anti-virus scan, and/or use backup to restore the device to a previous point.

Employee Spotlight

After more than thirty years at Radiance, communication specialist (and MIP Newsletter Editor) Fred Thompson is retiring. “It’s been a great run but I’m ready to spend some quality time with my RV.” says Fred. “I’ve really enjoyed my time with Radiance and working with the MIP board but now I’m looking forward to a road trip.”

Please join us in celebrating Fred’s years of service at the Mistford Community Center on Saturday, January 14.
